

Milliseconds matter.

Learn more about the difference a millisecond can make at www.savvis.net/financial

Market Data Services

SAVVIS Exchange Express (SEE) is a direct metropolitan Ethernet access service providing superior latency and high capacity within a given metropolitan area to locally established exchanges. SEE eliminates the hardware obstacles between the exchange and the customer, delivering market data to programmed trading systems faster than a traditional service.

SAVVIS Connectivity is delivered by our Communities Of Interest Network (COIN). A Global Private Network service, COIN is designed to deliver unicast or multicast content from a single source to a wide number of on-net recipients. COIN provides convergent access to SAVVIS' entire portfolio of Financial Exchanges.

To take advantage of this limited time offer now, call your current SAVVIS account executive or dial 1-800-SAVVIS-1.

A Friend on the Inside

In finance, it pays to have a few friends on the inside track. Take SAVVIS, for example. We provide connectivity to many of the world's top exchanges and leading sources of market data.

Because of those relationships and the physical proximity within our data centers, we are able to provide our hosting clients with low latency access that can cut milliseconds off their transactional time.

But the real benefits of having a friend on the inside are about to get even better. SAVVIS has introduced a preferred customers package that will provide significant cost savings on market data content to those customers already hosted inside our data centers.

Preferred Customers Market Data Package

For customers who are currently not subscribed to one of our market data connections, SAVVIS is offering a significant discount on both the subscription and installation, equalling as much as 50% off of the retail price on more than 150 datafeeds.

- 50% off of COIN market data content
- 50% off all Exchange Express connections of 10MB and 100MB
- 25% off all Exchange Express connections of 1GB
- 50% discount on installation fees (excluding new hardware)

Markets don't wait. Act now.

As an existing SAVVIS customer, you already know the power of leveraging our global infrastructure. Take advantage of your proximity to market data and achieve lower latency. When millions are on the line, milliseconds matter.

To learn more about SAVVIS market data packages, visit www.savvis.net/financial

The Market Data Package offer only lasts until December 30, 2008, so act now by contacting your SAVVIS representative.